The screenshot displays the official website of the Directorate of Technical Education, Assam. The header includes the government logo and contact information. The main heading states the purpose of the portal: admission into the 1st semester of B.Tech programmes in engineering colleges for the 2023-24 academic session. A green notification banner informs the user of their allotment to Electronics & Telecommunication Engineering at Assam Engineering College through the first round of counselling. Below this, a table titled 'ALLOTMENT DETAILS' provides specific information about the allotment. A confirmation prompt asks the user to accept or reject the offer, with a dropdown menu currently set to 'Reject and Exit from the entire Counselling process'. A red warning box explains that choosing this option results in rejection from the entire counselling process.
